X-PERT

Less people, more efficiency

Working smarter, increases productivity. Also in Agriculture. In this industry operations are regularly repeated, such as crop protection and weed protection. By equipping your Fendt tractor with the intelligent X-pert technology of Precision Makers, the work is performed fully autonomously. This enables a small staff to do a lot of work in a narrow time frame, enhancing productivity.

Difficult? Not at all!

Precision Makers uses its Teach & Playback technology: record and play. To record an operation, simply press the Record button and work as you are used to. Meanwhile the system records every action: driving, steering, throttle operation, lowering and raising of the lift and turning on the PTO. Afterwards press Play and the system will repeat this recorded route as many times as you want, precisely and unattended. X-pert has enough memory to record hundreds of operations. A touch-screen terminal on the arm rest allows you to operate the whole system and shows a 3D display of the route. Using the system is much easier than programming your video recorder; you'll be able to use the system within five minutes!

Safety

The machine is equipped with numerous safety features. The system checks itself and obviously stops when an obstacle is detected in front or behind the machine. When the system stops, it will inform you via a text message.

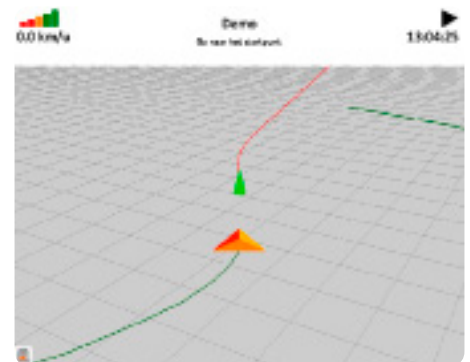

Automatically the best

X-pert uses high precision RTK-GPS. This way you can be assured of the best end result. In addition, while recording routes you can use GPS to make straight tracks. No man can beat that. With X-pert of Precision Makers you are automatically the best.
